

A NO CALL List is my right, just as free speach is the right of a telemarketer. KEEP THE NOCALL LIST IN WISCONSIN!!!!

I believe I have rights as a citizen of the US, to decide whether a telemarketer can continuously bother me with phone calls requesting money or services. In the past, I have been on the nocall list in Wisconsin which allowed only those businesses that I have a past association with to canvas me by phone...that is fair. I feel all others can send mailings (via snail mail, that is) to inform me of their services, etc. and I will then decide if I want to do business with them.

Within the past month, I have had AT LEAST a dozen phone calls from telemarketers...last year they followed state law & didn't call. I feel the feds should leave this issue to the individual states, which then can vote on it...after all this is a democracy, right?!
